

ON
RAIL SPECIFICATIONS
AND
RAIL INSPECTION
IN EUROPE,

BY

C. P. SANDBERG, C. E.,

Inspector to the Swedish Government and other Railways, 19 Great George Street, Westminster, London, England.

A PAPER READ BEFORE THE AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF MINING
ENGINEERS, AT THE LAKE SUPERIOR MEETING,
AUGUST, 1880.

AUTHOR'S COPY.

1880.

INDEX.

	PAGE
INTRODUCTION,	1

PART I. SPECIFICATIONS.

Sandberg's Standard Sections of Iron Rails,	2
Sandberg's Standard Sections of Steel Rails,	3
Weight of Rail and Strength of Joint,	4
Length of Rails,	5
Drilling, Punching, and Notching,	6
Marking,	9
Mode of Manufacture,	9

PART II. THE INSPECTION OF RAILS.

Sandberg's System of Inspection,	14
Tests for Iron and Steel Rails,	16
Results of Inspection,	19
English Engineers' Specifications,	20
German Engineers' Specifications,	21
Other Continental Engineers' Specifications,	22
American Engineers' Specifications,	23
Conclusions,	25

APPENDICES.

Appendix I.—Contract for Rails and Fastenings,	27
Appendix II.—Description of Sandberg's Standard Rail Sections,	31
Appendix III.—Effect of Notching,	39
Appendix IV.—Inspection Book,	43
Appendix V.—Rail Inspection Report,	46
Appendix VI.—Inspector's Certificate,	47
Appendix VII.—Extract from an Article in Engineering, Oct. 10, '79	48
Appendix VIII.—German Specifications for Steel Rails,	49
Appendix IX.—Letters referring to Dr. Dudley's Pamphlet,	55
Appendix X.—Drawing of a Broken Rail,	—
Appendix XI.—Diagram of prices of Iron and Steel Rails since 1854,	—